The Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

An adjourned meeting of the steckholders of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company was held yesterday at the office of Mesers. Howland & Aspinwall, for the purpose of listening to reports of committees appointed to in-the President's report and to investigate the same, and the cause of the failure to make dividends reported.

"balance" presented the following amount of assets— $4,427,768 48, with liabilities of $4,568,583 62, being a $4,427,768 48, with liabilities of $4,568,683 62, being a deficiency or loss of capital stock, (stock being on books of the company 80% per cent, instead of 100 par value, paid in by stockholders,) of $140,915 40; the committee therefore propose the issue of bonds to the amount of $500,000, interest payable semi-annually, and payable in ten years, or instalments, $200,000 in seven years, and $100,000 in each eight, nine and ten years, to be applied to the payment of the floating debt, of which $161,516 90 is due to stockholders—Howland & Aspinwall's balance $199,264 99—total, $366,780 25.

The committee recommend (upon the adoption of the financial measures contemplated) the acceptance of the proposed relinquishment of the agency by Messra Howland & Aspinwall, and also the early sale of four steamers not required for the use of the company, as being a source of large expense. It also advices stronuous efforts to effect an amicable arrangement with the Nicaragna Transit Company for the prevention of ruinous competition.

In the engine of the compittee the number of directions and the stronuous of directions.

Transit Company for the prevention of ruinous competition.

In the cpinion of the committee the number of directors should be increased from five to nine, exclusive of the President and Vice President, ex-oficio members, five members to constitute a quorum; and they further consider it expecient to create a new office, that of treasurer, to hold office at the will of the Board of Directors.

It was then proposed that Mesare. Theodore Dahon, Joseph Galllard, Jr., Ed. Whitehouse, A. Norrie, and Watts Sherman, be a committee to carry into effect the recommendations of the committee, and that the report be accepted.

MR. WILLIAM H. ASPINWALL rose and explained some inaccuraces in the report, and requested a division of

Resolved, That it be referred to a committee, to inquire and report to this Board, what saving can be made in the mode of carrying emigrants between the city, Quarantine and Ward's island, and that, if deemed necessary, they advertise for proporals if from steamboat proprietors for the same.

Resolved, That the Matron at Ward's Island be requested to report at the next meeting of the Board the amount of money paid to her by parties taking wet nurses from the Island, by whom paid, and when and how appropriated, and why such money, if any, has not been paid over to the Warden to report to the Vice President and deposited in the fund.

On motion of Commissioner Kennedy, the by-laws were amended so as to create a Castle Garden Committee. Commissioners Kennedy, Carrigan and Cummings were appointed as the standing committee on that place. Adjourned.

THE TWENTY-PIRST WARD COUNTERPRITING CASE. Since the arrest of the five mentioned in yesterday's Since the arrest of the five mentioned in yesterday's paper, as having been taken into custody on suspicion of being counterfeiters, additional testimony has been procured against the prisoners by Capt. Speight, of the Twenty-first ward police. A number of counterfeit five dollar bills en the Tradesman's Bank of Philadelphia, of recent execution, have been traced to their possessiod. According to the testimony elicited yesterday before Justice Davison, it appears that the gang estered the saloon of Charles Miller, of Fortieth street and Sixth avenue, and offered one of the bills in payment for some refreshments bought at this place, and that upon his discovery of the counterfeit, they all, with the exception of Donald, who was secured, ran off across the open lot in front of the house. Seven or eight of the counterfeits were found hid under a stone in the lot crossed by the prisoners. Two ladies (shopkeepers) also appeared at the Police Court, and identified a portion of the gang as having passed some of the spurious bills upon them in payment for the goods purchased. This counterfeit, although well executed, is after all but a miserable imitation of the genuine. The paper is very filmsy, and will not stand any hard usage, as the eneraving becomes quite dim when the bill is crushed or handled a great deal. The following is a fac simile of the counterfeit:—

ward station house, awaiting an owner.

RECOVERY OF ALLEGED STOLEN PROPERTY.

Yesterday, officer Jarboe, of the Third District Policicourt, upon a search warrant issued by Justice Welsh, succeeded in recovering a lot of valuable property, consisting of morococ leather shoes, calf skins and leather findings, the property of Augustus H. Brohe, of No. 27 Ferry street. The property was found in the house of his late cutter, named Bonhlem, who, it is supposed, stole about $1,000 worth of goods, in small lots, and at different times, from his employer. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the cutter, who could not be found when the officer visited his residence yesterday. RECOVERY OF ALLEGED STOLEN PROPERTY.

Supreme Court-Special Term. Defore Hon. Judge Cowles.
OPPOSITION TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE NINTE

AVENUE RAILBOAD. - Wetmore, R. L. & A. Stuart and Hoppock vs. Story, Radford and Murphy.—This action has been on trial several days, and is to prevent the construction of Washington streets, on the ground that if built it will destroy the business in those streets; will materially indestroy the business in those streets; will materially interfere with the traffic there; will depreciate rents and value of property; will injuriously affect the butchers and others doing business at Washington Market; and, generally, that it will be a nuisance in those streets. Other objections of a legal character are made to the grant—all of which, however, are contested by the defendants.

The evidence so far introduced by the plaintiffs has been mainly upon the effect the railroad would have in depreciating the rents and value of the property, and as to its tendency to destroy the business in the streets.

James Van Nostrand, President of Merchants' Exchange Bank, says it would prevent the present business being carried on there, and lessen value of property 25 per cent.

Examined Hotaling, in salt business at 297 Washington street, reat 31,600, on a lease, would sell out at half price if the railroad is laid, and would not do business there; could not carry it on with a railroad in the street; preperty would be depreciated one half in value.

John R. Macomb owns 303 Greenwich street; gets per cent.

Bastis Titus owns and occupies 283 Washington street as a cracker and ship bread bakery; would have to leave if the railroad goes through; it would depreciate property 30 to 40 per cent.

James H Lyon cocupies 109 Washington street, opposite Market, as woodenware store; pays $1,800 rent; the street would not do for their business if the railroad comes in it; would not give within $600 a year as much for the store.

way of the cars; track strains horses in gatting out of it.

Edward E. Carpenter, cartman, at 196 Greenwich street, could not do the business there if a railroad was in the street; track, besides, is bad for cartman; there is danger from throwing the horse and wrenching the cart; this often occurs on the other city tracks.

John J. Voorhees, cartman for Wetmore & Co., rides heavy iron and casts; railroads have a had effect on loaded carts; wheels get in the tracks, horses slip, and they and the carts get strained.

Alansen See, cartman 14 years in this vicinity; gave testimony similar to the last witness.

Gibert R. Soctt—Superintends carting for the Grocera' Steam Sugar Refining Company; average, 200 to 400 loads a day; each load from 1,200 to 2,500 pounds; the factory covers a whole block on Washington street; correct Laight; a front of 200 feet; and is so constructed, that all of their sugar, &c., must be received on Washington street; to take it in on any other street, would require an entire change of the building; the track has a bad effect on horses and carts; has broken their carts several times of late; in winter time there would not be room enough for the carts and cars to get along on the track; would be impassable, if the snow should be thrown on the sides of the street, in the usual way; witness thinks there is about $1,000,000 of capital in this factory.

John F. Solomon, 213 Washington street—Pays about $2,000 rent, brooms and wooden ware; streets constantly crowded; this business requires a great deal of room; with horses backed up on both sides of the street it is so narrow there is only about three feet left between their heads; a railroad would certainly deprecist rents there 25 per cent, and lessen property opposite the market full 40 per cent.

Joseph W. Mesks, of Vesey street—Cabinet furniture business, owns property there worth $250,000; also on Earclay street; all reats for $44,000; had his attention called to railroads by the Sixth Avenue Railroad endeavoring to extend theirs in front of his property; railroads in narrow business streets are very injurious; would depreciate the rents of his stores $2,000 each; would lessen property on Greenwich and Washington streets from thirty to twenty-five per cent in value.

Philip Weeks, butcher; twenty years in Washington Market—A railroad would injure his business very materially by depriving him of the facilities he now has for doing it; couldn't get his carts in on Washington streets, where his stand is; his horse could not stand there without being interfered with by the care.

John B. Jervis, is civil engineer for thirty to forty years—Where there is as much business in a street as in Greenwich and Washington streets, a railroad is a detriment, and business will be much interfered with by it; invariably has great difficulty to maintain a railroad on them; and this is so, notwithstanding large commercial interests where a terminus is made, arising from the people on the streets generally considering railroad.

John Conway butcher at Washington streets—A railroad would be very injurious to business and property there—would lessen property twenty-five per cent.

Samuel R. Platt, hardware merchant, 165 Greenwich street, pays $5,000 rent. If a railroad goes through there would not remain if he could get a store elsewhere; business would be driven out of the street by

SUIT ON BEHALF OF THE DEPOSITORS OF THE LATE ENGGEREOGEER SAVINGS BANK.

The U. S. Trust Company vs. Dizon.—This is a suit, in the name of a receiver, for the benefit of the depositors of the late Knickerbocker Savings Institution. That the of the late Knickerbocker Savings Institution. That the defendant had the money—seven thousand dollars—for which he is sued in this action, there is ne dispute; that he obtained it under the pretence of a lawful loss is equally undisputed; but, rays the defendant, the officers of the Savings Institution violated that duty—not their duty to me, but their duty to the depositors—they took my obligation, with Knickerbocker Bank stock as collateral, instead of good "public stock," or good real estate, which alone they should have accepted; in other words, they were faithless trustees in taking insufficient security for the fulfilment of my promise, and therefore—a most extraordinary conclusion either in morals or law—I am discharged from its fulfilment altogether. Had the betrover, as he ought to have done, secured his note by mortgage, the note, it seems, according to this reasoning, would have been valid; but, as by an arrangement between him and the secretary, worthless bank stock was accepted instead of real estate, the note is void I It is only necessary to state such a proposition to refute it. Is not every trustee—whether as executor, administrator, guardian, committee, or otherwise—to whom the moneys of others are confided, subject to the duty, when making loans, of requiring sufficient security? And yet, was it ever contended, that a let u made by an executor, for instance, on mere partonal security—like a loan on usurious interest—was void? The only consequence in such case, as every one (certainly every lawyer) hows, would be that the executor, in the event of loss, would himself be held liable to make good the declency. There is a wide distinction between acts done in violation of mere private duty. In the former case the law vindesses itself by giving no remody to the transgressor—in the latter, it superadds to the remedy against one party, a remody, of more or less efficiency, against the other. Judgment for plaintiff for $7,493 33, with one per cent allowance.

Anti-Maine Law Meeting in Albany.

PRELIMINARY ORGANIZATION OF A NEW PARTY—

A STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

(From the Albany Atlas, June 20.)

There was a meeting, informally called in this city, at which delegates from New York were present, with a large delegation from the western counties and towns, to consult as to the proper method of procuring the repeal of the unconstitutional and inqui-itorial Maine law. About a hundred delegates were present, and responses to the call were made by some 30 or 40 more, in letters, advising as to the course to be purrued.

The meeting was called to convene at the Mansion House; but being larger than was expected, had to assemble at Association Hall. Hon. Phillip W. Engs, of New York, was called to the chair; and Messre. Brown, of Buffalo, and Reed, of Troy, were appointed Secretaries. Mr. Pavis, of Albany, as Secretary of the Albany Committee, stated the character of the responses received from those not present as delegates.

A proposition of Col. French, of New York, to call a State Convention exclusively upon this subject, with authority to nominate candidates, &c., was the subject of discussion, in which the mover and Messre. Bubject of discussion, in which the mover and Messres. White, of Niegars, and Vanderpool, of Erre, participated.

The meeting finally resolved to appoint a State Central Committee, of fifteen, with directions to make athorough and immediate canvass of the State, and with power to call a State Convention, in the event of the hostile action or the inaction of the political conventions to be called by existing organized parties.

The Board of Education held their stated meeting last evening, when there was a pretty full attendance—Wm. H. Nellson, President, in the chair.

On recommendation of the Finance Committee, the sum of $9,060 12 was appropriated for the erection of schoel house No. 50, in Twentieth street, Eighteenth ward, to be paid from any funds not otherwise appropri-ward, to be paid from any funds not otherwise appropriated. The sum of $20,000, for salaries of teachers for June, was also passed without dissent; also, $5,000 for incidental expenses of the commission.

On recommendation [of the Finance Committee, the Comptroller was requested to supply $65,000 for the July expenses of the Board.

$2,400 74 was asked to be appropriated for extra work at No. 4 Rivington street, with the proviso that the money be paid only out of such money as may be at present unspropriated. A lengthy discussion eased, during which great warmth of feeling was evinced. There being a want of a majority vote, (one vote wanting.) the appropriation was lost, but immediately brought up for reconsideration, with the same result.

This decision of the chair was appealed from, be sustained.

A motion to adjourn was lost.

The report of the Finance Committee, recomm the adoption of contracts made by the school of the Eleventh ward for repairs, was adopted. Bome matters of a business nature were then tred, and the Board adjourned.

DEATH FROM VIOLENCE ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN IN-PLICITED BY A SCHOOLMASTER.—Yesterday afternoon Core-ner Hilton received information that a child about five years of age, residing at 188 Laurens street, had died from inflammation of the brain, brought about from a severe beating received at the hands of a beacher in one of the public schools. The doctor who attended the child, hearing of the manner in which the boy had re-ceived his injuries, refused to give a cartificate of death until the Coroner had examined into the matter. The case will be thoroughly investigated to-day, and if there are any just grounds to implicate the schoolmas-ter he will no doubt be promptly arrested and dealt with according to law.

FIFTH AVENUE.—An accident of a very serious nature occurred in Fifth avenue, near Eleventh street, 'last evening, about 6 o'clock. It appears a pair of horses, attached to a heavy carriage, took fright and dashed with fearful impetus down the avenue. A young woman, who was crossing at the above named place, not seeing or not heeding the maddened animals, was struck by the pole of the carriage and hurled to the ground with great violence; she was stamped upon by the horses while passing, and the wheels passed ever her body, severely, and it is believed fatally, injuring her. She was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found her skull was fractured and body much bruised. On her person was found a bill with the mame Ann E. Yanghan, which was supposed to be her mame.
